Minister Of Highways Declares Fort Irwin Bridge Open

"Good highways and bridges continue to be of great importance in the development and the opening up of areas such as the one at Haliburton Lake," said the Honourable George E. Gomme in his speech at the official opening of the Fort Irwin Bridge held at Haliburton Lake on Saturday.

Mr. Gomme went on to say that he is glad that Haliburton County is getting some of the pie which is being cut up in Ontario. In closing his talk he outlined the following work schedule for 1967 which includes:

Highway 519, from Haliburton southerly: clearing of right-of-way for 0.5 miles of new alignment crossing the Drag River 3.1 miles south of Lochlin. The estimated cost of this work is $3,000. The construction of the new structure and approaches at this location would follow in the near future at an estimated cost of $95,000.

Letters To The Editor

Summerland Lodge,
July 19, 1967.

Dear Sir:

During the summer season there are the usual stories about drownings and/or dramatic rescues. Not very often, however, do you hear of the little dramas such as the one that took place this afternoon just off the shore of Paradise Lake.

A boy about six years of age by the name of Pat Jewitt floated out over his head and fell off the black inner tube he had been using for support. Had it not been for the quick action of a boy named Mike, he would have certainly drowned for Pat made no sound as he went under several times, unnoticed by the adults who were supposedly supervising him and the other young children (all equipped with inner tubes and all non-swimmers) from the safety of the beach.

So this then is the story of Pat and Mike. It could so easily pass by without notice, but I feel the story should be told in order that Mike receive some recognition for his good deed. I hesitate to call it bravery (although it certainly was bravery) because I don't think Mike would like that. For when I asked him his name this young boy, who just happened to come over for a swim, replied, "Mike - just Mike".

Mike, we might say, is 15 years of age.

Lenore Phillips.

Minden Rotary Club Parade Winners

Hundreds of people lined the streets in Minden last night for the Annual Minden Rotary Club Parade which started off the two day Carnival.

The parade was led by the Haliburton Legion Band. This was one of the best Minden Rotary Club parades in a long time.

Following the parade the large crowd made their way to the Minden Recreation Centre for fun and games.

Robertson's Midway from Toronto was in operation beside the Arena.

The following are the winners in last night's Rotary Parade in Minden.

Best Commercial Float - 1st LaNore Beauty Salon; 2nd Campbell's Flower Shop.

Best Lodge Float - 1st Camp Allsaw; 2nd Brigadoon.

Best Centennial Costume - Junior Akon and Ruth Ann Peacock on Rob-Mar Salon Float.

Best Children's Costume - 1st Gloria Congdon on Minden Festival Float; 2nd Scott Miller on Holiday Laundromat Float.

Bicycle Contest - Girl, Gwen Walker; Boy, Scott Walker.

The Carnival continues tonight with the highlight of the evening being the Car Draw.

Public Skating Starts Saturday

Public Skating opens this Saturday night at the Haliburton Arena. Public Skating will continue every Saturday night from July 29 to September 9, with the exception of Saturday, August 19. Two hours of skating from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. It's ice skating for young and old.

We issue a special invitation to everyone in Haliburton County, as well as our summer visitors, to come out and skate on the best summer ice in Ontario. Admission will be charged.

Swimming Course Begins On July 31

The Canadian Red Cross Society, Haliburton Branch, is happy to be able to offer swimming instruction again this summer under competent instructors. We have been fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Barbara Prentice and Miss Susan Prentice as her assistant. Both these girls have been highly recommended by the examiner for their work in previous years.

Registration this year will be on Monday, July 31 at 10 a.m. at the Rotary Beach in Haliburton. Swimming instruction will be Monday through Friday of each week for a four week period ending Friday, August 25.

We invite all children four years of age and up to take advantage of this course which is free. There will be courses for all interested groups from beginners to seniors.

See you Monday, July 31.

Action Needed Now

Saturday last saw the official opening of the new Fort Irwin Bridge at Oblong Lake by the Honourable George E. Gomme, Minister of Highways for the Province of Ontario.

In the course of his remarks the speaker more or less intimated that every time he opened his office door he was confronted by R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P., asking for this and that. From the condition of the highways in this area it would appear that many of the said requests are falling on deaf ears.

When a motorist leaves Norland travelling north, he is confronted with a sign which reads, "You Are Now Entering The Highlands of Haliburton". There is really no need for such a sign as the steady deterioration of this section of Highway 35 has resulted in so many humps and bumps that a blind person could easily tell when he crossed the boundary line.

We are sure that if the Honourable Mr. Gomme, who is apparently a fine person and a most capable Minister of Highways, travelled over that portion of Highway 519 from Eagle Lake to Redstone he could not help but notice that this stretch of road surely needed attention.

On our T.V. screens we are constantly being reminded that Ontario is where the action is; well, we would like to see some action here in the form of an honest to goodness operation that would provide us with a straight and smooth road through our county with access roads receiving the necessary attention that will enable us to participate in the progress being made by this province.

I may be speaking out of turn but by and large the great majority of property owners here are not at all satisfied with the treatment being dealt us as far as highway improvements are concerned.

THE HODGSON REUNION

About 150 descendants of John Yeates Hodgson and Isabella West met at the farm of Thomas Hodgson, which is the ancestral home of this pioneer family of Victoria County, at Burnt River on July 22, 1967.

John Yeates Hodgson and his wife settled on this farm in 1890. They had nine children, Thomas, William, Margaret, Christopher, Mary, Joseph, Watson, Charles and Clayton. Only two sons survive - Charles, former Warden of Victoria County, and Clayton, former long-time Member of Parliament for Victoria - Haliburton - North Ontario riding.

Glen and Louis Hodgson, sons of Clayton Hodgson and both serving members of the Ontario Legislature, were also in attendance.

Mr. Harvey Windrum and his wife came from his home in Austin, Texas to the reunion. He is a son of Margaret of the original family. Mrs. Ruth Hodgson, widow of Watson, and her son Gregg and family of Saskatchewan were also present.

In the afternoon everyone enjoyed a sports programme, after which Charles Hodgson was host to everyone at a delicious supper served by the ladies of the Women's Institute in the Anglican Parish Hall at Burnt River.

Later, an old moving picture was shown by Mrs. H. Hemming in which there are some frames of the late Isabella West in her old age. Also, Thomas Hodgson, son of Clayton Hodgson, showed some coloured slides of the last reunion held at Haliburton Lake in 1955.

The day ended with a dance in the Orange Hall at Burnt River.

Dysart School Board Report

On July 5th the Board held a special meeting with all members present except Mrs. Watson. Also present were Mr. Nelson Ward, Mr. Archer and Mr. Prentice. There was some discussion regarding the arrangement of Grade 5 and 6 pupils in the coming school year. It was decided that the division of the Grade 5 pupils between Haliburton and Eagle Lake will be done alphabetically since on the whole the class of students had been relatively homogenous scholastically. It was decided to have a work committee figure out what number of students would go to Eagle Lake to relieve the overcrowded conditions. The committee was also to make preliminary studies of the transportation of these students as well as the incoming kindergarten students. Mr. Ward discussed with those present the unit system of teaching and student advancement in the first three years of school. This system has already been started in a preliminary form in our schools and will continue to be implemented in the coming year.

On July 13th a work committee of Mr. Salvatori, Mrs. Hobden and Mr. Kellett met, assisted by information regarding the location of Stanhope kindergarten students supplied by Mrs. Stinson, to discuss the possible transportation systems for the kindergarten students. They also studied the make-up of the Grade 5 and 6 classes at Eagle Lake and recommended that the Eagle Lake children in these grades be returned to the Eagle Lake School along with the Haliburton village (Continued on Back Page)

Welcome To The Haliburton Rotary Carnival

That time of year has arrived once again. It's time for the 24th Annual Haliburton Rotary Carnival. This year's Carnival will be for one night only, Wednesday, August 2, when the Rotary Club will pack two nights of fun and frolic into the one night.

This annual event which attracted 15,000 people last year is by far the largest attraction of its kind in Haliburton County, and the local Rotary Club have one of the best parades in Ontario.

On Wednesday night, August 2, the big event will be kicked off with a monster parade which will leave the Haliburton Community Park at 7 p.m. featuring four bands, The Peterborough C.G.E. Pipe Band, Haliburton Legion Band, Orillia Kiltie Band and the ever popular Camp White Pine Band. They will be followed by floats, clowns and marching units.

Now is the time to get your float ready, as prizes will be given to the best parade entry, best lodge, best merchant, best camp, best decorated car, best bicycle, and best clown comic. In addition this year there will be a prize for the best Centennial float.

The Giant Midway will be in operation in front of the Arena starting at 1 p.m. in the afternoon and continuing right through until the Carnival is over. So why not bring your children out in the afternoon for the rides and avoid the rush at night.

Following the parade, the large crowd will head for the Arena and Community Centre for an evening of fun and games. The Rotary Club have added some new games this year, so why not come on up and try them. And, oh yes, let's not forget the Bingo game which will be going throughout the evening.

Starting at 9 p.m. there will be a dance held in the Auditorium.

Nearing the end of the evening the draw for the 1967 Firebird Sports Car will be held. If you haven't already purchased your ticket on this car do so right away as tickets are becoming scarce. Only 1200 are being sold.

This year's Carnival will take on a Centennial theme, and many of the floats in the parade will be decorated for Centennial.

So plan now to attend the Haliburton Rotary Club Carnival on Wednesday night, August 2. Proceeds for Crippled Children and Community Service. Admission to the Arena is free.

Guest Editorial

THIS IS OUR DEBT

THIS IS our birthday. Our hundredth . . .

Let's forget for a moment our genealogy, the economy, strikes, inflation, even taxes. It is a time to sing, if just for a happy noon-hour break, to something we know is pretty wonderful. We can't define it; we don't think there is any need to define it. To try, might spoil it.

We don't even need to ask what a Canadian is. Deep in our hearts we either know or we can turn away and forget it. There are thousands of Canadians, tens of thousands of Canadians, as many "Canadians" as there are people in this great stretch of blessed and hopeful land.

We are worried; we were always worried. There is dissension; we would be lonely without it. A lot of our troubles of the past and of the present could have been avoided, but then so could we. Let's even concede Canada, as the pundits often put it, is an accident, a geographical contradiction with an emotional cement. The tide could have turned a lot of ways. We might have been Dutch, French, American, and here we are a bit of everything. And who would trade it in? We could have a worse neighbour, too. Could we ever!

There are changes. A lot of us were educated in some mysterious way before education became a constant crisis. A lot of us grew to health without penicillin, electrocardiograms, and psychiatry. A lot of us find the semantics of idealism so changed they make no sense at all. Who cares? We have had fearful depressions; we have had wars. We know deep down whom we have to thank for our survival. Those who don't are poor Canadians.

It is a better world. No one need have any doubts about that. If prosperity is relative, there is no longer the fear of hunger, destitution and humiliation. That, on the toss of a dice, was the fate of so many of our forefathers. We are safe, far safer than they were. Children live now, when once it was almost a matter of arithmetic that only a percentage of a family would survive after the age of three. Hunger, in its bitter sense, is today comparatively unknown. Men need no longer bow to the lash of want, nor to the unchallengeable weight of authority, the way they once did.

A lot of people may not like our flag. The fact today is that it is Canada's flag. It is what we do in the years to come that will bring us to respect it, and feel warmly and proudly that it means Canada. A salute is not enough, any more than nationalism can be authenticated by a mere tribal gesture.

Gratitude, yes. Our hearts should be bursting with it. Not only for the bounty of our earth; not only because we have escaped the ravages that have blighted so many parts of the globe. Bombs have never disembowelled our cities. The thud of armies has been remote from our shores. We have not had to rebuild on the ruins left by invaders.

This should bring us up short. Men, fine men, have bled for Canada. Men of high courage have battled their way through unbelievable hardships to leave a fresher and a more inspiring prospect than they could have ever dreamed of themselves.

This is our debt. It is a debt to remember on these happy days of celebration. While we are rejoicing, let's think for a minute about our vanished legions of peacetime and war. They led the way and thought, more deeply than we think now, of those who would follow.

They were Canadians.
Thank God they were.

Construction Speed Zones Will Be Enforced By O.P.P.

Following the recent announcement by the Honourable George E. Gomme, Minister of Highways, regarding recent amendments to The Ontario Highway Traffic Act, affecting Special Speed Zones for highway construction areas -

Assistant Commissioner J. L. Needham of the Ontario Provincial Police, Traffic Division, announces the immediate enforcement of this new legislation.

Motorists can now expect to see official regulatory speed signs at all highway construction sites on major traffic arteries throughout the Province.

It is important to remember that the location of these signs and the speeds indicated could vary hourly, as the construction zone progresses.

It is therefore incumbent upon all motorists to be aware of the posted speed limits within the construction area and comply.

"These new regulations will be strictly enforced at all construction sites in the interest of safety and any violation could bring fines of up to $200.00 and license suspension of up to 6 months," Assistant Commissioner Needham said.

GOODERHAM

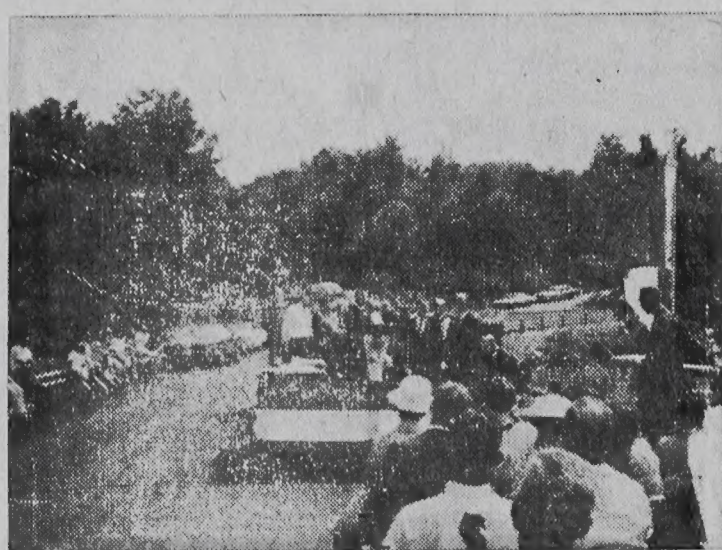

On Saturday evening a Shower was given in honour of Maxine Carey in the United Church dining area. A very pleasant evening was spent. The bride-to-be received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barr attended the McKague Reunion at Cobocok Lions Park.

Mrs. A. Parrish of Toronto is at her home on Pine Lake. We are sorry that she had the misfortune to break her wrist.

The sympathy of the village is extended to the Fotheringham Family, the Monahan Family and Miss Elva Whitcombe on the passing of a dearly loved father and grandfather, Mr. Frank Whitcombe, in his 96th year.

Safety Tip

On the farm, at home and on the job, it pays to be safety conscious. At Hydro safety is a way of life. It has to be—talented people are a precious commodity.

Take Hydro equipment operators. They do things with vehicles manufacturers never dreamed of and use their machines with many extra attachments.

It's the attachments that cause the trouble. Fit a vehicle with a 600-gallon water tank and spray equipment, or a 40-foot aerial bucket and brush chipper, and stability becomes unpredictable.

This is why Hydro tests vehicles before sending them on the job. Specialists tip them, test the brakes and steering, try different tire sizes, in fact drive them until the wheels almost fall off.

Most tractors are smaller than their Hydro counterpart shown here. But small tractors can tip, or brakes can fail, or the steering get fouled, just the same. And like Hydro vehicles, it's the unconventional additions and hook-ups on equipment that cause trouble.

Certainly not everyone can afford the time or money to test equipment as Hydro does. But they can do the next best thing. Be careful. Safety is an attitude and without it all the testing in the world is useless.

By ROBERT F. NIXON
Ontario Liberal Leader

A strong movement has sprung up to return the use of Ontario's beaches to the people.

A while ago there was a demonstration on Lake Erie protesting the fact that some beaches there have been fenced off for private use. In other areas groups have gathered to question pollution or the lack of public swimming facilities.

These protests remind us that a good many of our best recreation places have been sadly neglected.

Take Port Stanley, a once flourishing resort on Lake Erie, near London. In the old days Port Stanley's fine beaches attracted hundreds on a holiday weekend. Some came across the lake on steamers from Cleveland. Today parts of that resort have a dilapidated look. There is even a coal pile on the beach. Unfortunately, what has happened to Port Stanley has happened to a number of older resorts along the Great Lakes.

The government — busy developing parks in the north — has neglected good recreation areas close to some of our largest centres of population.

In my opinion, the government must pour more funds into established recreation areas, within easy driving distance of most of the province's people.

Let me give you some examples of what might be accomplished:

* The province should work with private enterprise and the municipalities to redevelop such resorts as Port Stanley, Port Dover, Crystal Beach and Erie Beach and clean up their waterfronts.

* We should have a plan for developing major public recreation areas in the Muskoka district — a move that will bolster the local economy and give many city people who feel frustrated because a good part of that area is now privately owned.

* We can improve parking at beaches such as Wasaga — so that miles of good sand do not turn into drag strips.

* And the province could help the city of Toronto develop its waterfront and Canadian National Exhibition grounds in an attempt to catch some of EXPO 67's style.

In the early 1900's beaches and recreation areas near cities were used extensively. There were many boating clubs, recreation centres and amusement parks. It is hardly progress when you consider that a good many of these activities have died out because of neglect, pollution or bad planning.

In all these development schemes the present property owners would have to be dealt with equitably.

And by starting now and planning properly we can make sure this is done.

Action must be taken to restore more of our waterfront to the people. It is far better that this action should be taken carefully — and not as a quick, convulsive afterthought.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

BUFFALOWED BILL

I think I can say, without fear of contradiction, that I am the stupidest English teacher in Canada if not the whole of North America. I may add that I am the most dunder-headed columnist between Vancouver and Marysville, Newfoundland.

Why? Aside from the things that naturally spring to mind, it's this crazy column contest, that's why. English teachers spend their winters muttering and cursing into the small hours as they read and mark what are jocosely called essays.

At the end of June the intelligent ones begin their holidays, or run off with somebody's mistress, or get roaring drunk. The stupid one starts a guest-column contest and spends his whole summer muttering and cursing into the small hours, reading columns that make him extremely insecure about his future as a columnist.

Well, I guess you know what all this is leading up to. That's right, chaps. I still haven't picked the winner of that fantastic prize of 50 fish. Like a jerk, I didn't put a deadline on entries, and the damn things are still coming in.

But that's not the problem. They're all so rotten GOOD. Readers of Sugar and Spice, or at least a couple of hundred of them, are among the most literate, articulate and witty in the land.

How would you like to be asked to judge a beauty contest in which every entrant was a knockout and also the daughter of one of your best friends? That's how I feel.

A person with some method in his madness would probably sort the entries into groups: Excellent, Very Good, Pretty Good, A Definite Potential, Lousy, Stinks, and so on. Then he would put an elastic band around each group.

He would then put aside all except the Excellent. He would peruse them for the eighth time, narrowing down to two. And he would make a decision. And everybody would be unhappy ever afterwards, except the winner.

I don't operate that way. I am racked, harrowed, tortured. One day I think I have the winner. My wife agrees. The kids don't like it, or I suddenly remember a better one that I read last week, and spend two hours searching for it, only to find that it should have been in the Stinks' file.

Another day I have everything narrowed down to the TOP TEN. I place them carefully on the floor beside my desk. And my wife, tidying up while I'm not around, puts them back in with the others, shuffles them, and I have to read the whole ruddy lot again, in the process discovering several which were much better than the TOP TEN.

My ears are already burning because I can hear the shouts of indignation from right across the nation, when the winner is announced. It will definitely be, for all other entrants, the worst column they've ever read.

Ah, the hell with it. Here I am, an old fighter pilot who dived into the blazing flak at Caen, scared stiff because 199 people are going to think I'm a clod for not picking their column.

Next week, the winning column will appear in this space, even if I have to write it myself and donate the prize to the Stupid English Teachers Association.

Now, here's what to do. If you want your manuscript back, and have not already indicated so, please write to me at 303 Hugel Ave., Midland, Ontario, and it shall be sent. Then, take it to the editor of your local newspaper. Just say, "This column won Honourable Mention in the Smiley-to-Expo Contest." He'll print it. If he doesn't he's a cad, and you can tell him so, from me.

There is some absolutely first-rate stuff in the heap, and in almost every case, it should be printed.

Give Surprise Party

On Friday night, July 14 a surprise birthday party was held in honour of Miss Barbara Purdie's 21st birthday.

Miss Barbara Purdie of Port Credit and Miss Stephanie Davenport of Clarkson are friends of Fay Sawyer and Barbara Ann Scott, and were holidaying at West Guilford in Irene Sawyer's cottage on Grass Lake.

About 30 guests included friends from Haliburton, West Guilford, Haliburton Hockey Haven, Fenwick and St. Catharines gathered.

All enjoyed dancing and old folk singing with the music being supplied by Ray Scott with his banjo, Fay Sawyer, Greta Sawyer and Barbara Ann Scott with accordians, and Ott Scott with the guitar.

A dainty lunch was served, including sandwiches and birthday cake. This was prepared by Irene Sawyer, Greta Sawyer, Ruby Scott and Mrs. Davenport.

Miss Purdie received a number of lovely gifts. The cottage was decorated with pink and white streamers and pink bells.

Miss Purdie thanked everyone for the lovely gifts and for such a nice party. The party continued until the wee small hours.

Letters to the Editor

20 Albert Street,
Toronto 1, Ontario.

Mr. B. Feir, The County Echo,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Feir:

Once again it is my pleasure and privilege, on behalf of the National Headquarters of The Salvation Army, to express appreciation and gratitude for the support you have given to the Centennial Red Shield Appeal which has been conducted in Haliburton.

The fact that so many public spirited citizens like yourself in every walk of life contribute and work for the Red Shield Appeal not only makes it possible to continue with our wide ramifications of services to those who have become Life's Casualties, but it is a great encouragement to our Officers who seek only the opportunity to serve.

Again thanking you for your identification with the Red Shield Appeal and for your willingness to serve on the 1967 Committee. With every good wish.

Cordially yours,
T. L. Carswell, Lieut.-Colonel,
National Campaign Director.

We, as a people, are familiar with the knowledge of the Salvation Army work in the areas of economic blight in this and other countries. However, most of us do not realize that many of the measures of combating poverty and urban renewal schemes come not from today's community planners but from the book called, "In Darkest England and The Way Out," written 76 years ago by General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. This was the climax to 40 years of searching for "the way out".

"I see the folly of hoping to accomplish anything abiding," he observed, "except there be a change effected in the whole man as well as in his surroundings. And if I do not save the fathers, I shall make a better chance for the children."

From the "poor man's lawyer" to the in-town training program, it's all there. The only new thing is the way to finance the programs.

Today in Ontario we have had only several months of operation of the Legal Aid program. Ontario's Department of the Attorney General estimates included $2 million for operation of this plan. Because of the need, it now appears very likely that all the estimates on requirements of these services will exceed forecasts. Therefore, one of the key antipoverty measures suggested by General Booth, has now been adopted here many years after his suggestion and could be one more tribute to a man of extraordinary vision.

"The remedy to the slums and poverty, it may be," General Booth wrote, "is simpler than some imagine. The key to the enigma may lie closer to our hands than we have any idea of."

Then he went on, as if to advise future generations of the pitfalls ahead: "Many devices have been tried, and many have failed, no doubt; it is only stubborn, reckless perseverance that can hope to succeed; it is well that we recognize this."

There is nothing very novel about a war on poverty. General Booth laid out all the ideas in his book so many years ago. We have used some of his concepts and his followers use many of his programs which they carry out within the private donations they receive. The Salvation Army is always mobilized and ready to help and we should remember their battle plan is a tested one and found true.

The Poet's Corner

HE WHO LOVES THE FOREST

He who loves the forest will never be content,
With closed-in walls of Cities
grand or idle hours there spent.
The golfer's green has no appeal,
the Clubs, the Music Halls,
Will never thrill a woodsman's soul like the sound of waterfalls.

The blaring notes of saxophones,
the roll of dance hall drums,
Will not replace the howl of wolf,
or the little bird that hums.
The rattling roar of everhead, the
hiss of subway lines,
Cannot replace the thunder's roar,
nor the wind in lofty pines.

The brilliant glare of neon signs,
the dashing headlamps bright,
Will never dim the glory of the flashing Northern Lights.
The curling smoke of factory fires,
the smudge of city fogs,
Cannot compare with clear cold air, nor the smoke from campfire logs.

Thus we who love the Forest,
though housed in Cities Grand,
Will always miss the water's song,
the whispering beach's sand.
The sunrise coming o'er the lake,
the moon on Mountains white,
The glistening snow, the ebb and flow of a forest's wintry night.

Nor can the babbling voices, of City millions still,
The whisper of the forests green,
the bells of rippling rills.
In loneliness and solitude, the cricket by the hearth,
Will give the earth worn weary soul, the joys of a rebirth.

MEN OF THE NORTH

Come if you dare to the north man's lair,
The trample of your armies shall not shake us.
Shout if you will, we are free men still,
Words shall not break us.

For we have the brain and the
brawn and the blood,
Of the Saxon and the Celt and
the Gaul,

And we'll never yield the lot;
But we'll keep what we have got
If we fight until the day is done.
For Canada, dear Canada,
Men of the North are we,
For thee we will live
And for thee we will die,
And evermore thou shall be free.

Men of the North, it to war we go forth,
Let our trust never be in marsh-alled numbers,
But in the left of each man's breast,
The fire that never slumbers.

For we have the brain and the
brawn and the blood,
Of the Saxon and the Celt and
the Gaul,

And we'll never yield the lot;
But we'll keep what we have got
And we'll fight at our country's call.

For Canada, dear Canada,
Men of the North are we,
For thee we will live
And for thee we will die,
And evermore thou shall be free.

Group Skis To Expo

The Lake Boshkung Skiers, one of Canada's most active water ski clubs, left Toronto bound for Expo last Friday, July 21. They employed a new means of travel
— water skis.

The Club, an amateur non-profit organization, intended to ski from Toronto to Kingston, Kingston to Ottawa via the Rideau System, and Ottawa to Montreal, to be greeted at Expo directly in front of the Ontario Pavilion today (July 27).

When the reception is over, the skiers will present Ontario's Centennial Skitacular 67, the Club's own water ski show.

WILBERFORCE

NEWS NOTES

A week or so ago I took a trip out to the new Martin Lumber Co. mill at Harcourt. I had heard quite a lot about this mill and was anxious to see it. It lies about ten miles off Highway 648 on the Elephant Lake Road, and visitors are made welcome. We arrived in the afternoon and were allowed to walk through the mill on a special "cat walk" which enables one to see the logs going through and being sawn up to eventually become boards, two by fours, etc. The mill is all automatic and it is interesting to watch the progress of the logs; the waste pieces go into a "chipper" and become chips which are in turn shipped out to a paper mill in the U.S.A. We also met Mr. Chuck Lindsay who explained things to us and also took us to see that part of the mill where they are making "gun stocks" for the Winchester Co. At the present they are turning out about 1,000 a day but they eventually expect to increase this output. This is a very interesting place to visit and I would suggest that any tourists in the area make sure they see it. The courtesy of Mr. Lindsay makes the visit much more enjoyable.

There is an old saying which goes something like this, "It's not what you know, but who!" I noticed the Township truck going up the Essonville Line Road Saturday morning with four men, two in the back shovelling calcium chloride on the road to lay the dust. It wouldn't have had anything to do with the wedding at the Essonville Church, I suppose.

We received a nice letter from Miss Pat Deterling (who was training as a Nurse's Aid when I was in Toronto General Hospital in 1963), and she tells us that she is leaving the Red Cross Outpost at Red Lake on July 29 and expects to be married in South Wilberforce in the fall. We expect to see her and her fiancé here at Otter Lake in August. We wish her much happiness in her future.

The sign on the Essonville Line Road showing the road to Day's Lake has recently been taken down. We would ask the Road Foreman, or whoever has the job of looking after these matters, to kindly replace this sign so that people who want to fish this lake will know the way.

The Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Co. mill will be closing down on Friday, July 29 for the annual two week's holiday.

On Sunday evening last at St.

Margaret's Church (Anglican) in Wilberforce a special evening service was held by Capt. Sims for the girls of Camp Brigadoon. Mrs. Cameron played the organ. The Church was nearly filled with the girls and some of the local residents. During the service the choir from the Camp sang some very beautiful selections, including "Jacob's Ladder", and after the reading of the first lesson and the Creed and collection they sang two selections, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord" and "Holy, Holy, Holy" by Schubert, and finally finishing up the service of evening prayer by singing "Somebody's Knocking at my Door" and "Night on the Lake". The young voices blended so beautifully it was a delight to listen to them, and great credit is due to Miss Nancy Turner who trained them and accompanied them on the organ. Indeed a night long to be remembered.

A Bazaar was held in Wilberforce on Saturday in aid of the Retarded Children; we understand that it was very successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brooks and family of Searchmont were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen of Wilberforce recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clelland of Brandon were in Wilberforce last week for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowen of St. Catharines were visiting with their father and mother this past week.

MINDEN

Summer guests with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stouffer have been a daughter, Dr. Katherine, and son-in-law Dr. Mirhady and grandchildren Tom, Susan and twins David and Alec, and a friend, Donald Tearson, all of Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vasey and family are holidaying with relatives and friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson, Linda and Rickey of Lindsay visited the Phil Robinsons on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Leaman and boys of River Drive Park spent their holiday with their parents, the Milton Sears.

Mr. and Mrs. Arbery Harrison and Mrs. Clare Hobden visited their sister, Mrs. Frank Thomas, at the Case Manor Rest Home in Bobcaygeon last Sunday.

A Reply To Rain, Rain And Someone To Blame

In the July 20th issue of the County Echo I note that A.M.F. states that the condition of our road is due to the heavy rain, and that if we got in touch with the Road Foreman things would get better.

If A.M.F. reads his Echo he would see that on June 29 I wrote that the new grader had arrived and that the road (Essonville Line) was in very bad shape. On July 6 I wrote that I had been asking the Reeve to have something done to fix up this road. On Friday, June 30 I saw the Reeve, the Road Foreman and the grader operator at the Arena and told them all about the condition of this road, but did not get very much satisfaction from them.

A.M.F. also states that we have around one hundred miles of Township roads to take care of; I have been told many times we have fifty miles of Township roads. I guess A.M.F. must have measured them with a linen tape on a wet day and it stretched a little (50 miles).

As for fixing up holes in the road, this little hole in the road I was complaining about is about 100 feet long, at least 18 inches deep and needs at least about four or five loads of gravel. I can't see myself walking about one and a quarter miles with my shovel and carrying that much gravel even to get a good appetite. There are several holes in the road within that distance of A.M.F.'s house but I don't notice him fixing them up to get "a good appetite".

In conclusion I would suggest that A.M.F. learn the facts before he starts to criticize.

Fort Irwin Bridge

tively in the planning period is as follows: (1) Drag River Bridge and 0.2 miles of new approaches at Haliburton; estimated cost $110,000. (2) Paving over recent Day Labour grading, from 1.2 miles south of the northely junction of Highway 121, southerly 1.5 miles; estimated cost $40,000. (3) From Lochlin southerly 7.0 miles, excluding the new Drag River Bridge and 0.9 miles of recent Day Labour construction, 5.6 miles; prior clearing right-of-way would be carried out at an estimated cost of $15,000, and follow-up grading has an estimated value of $560,000.

The total value of the proposed work is $823,000. Schedules for the work in future years would be contingent upon the availability of funds.

At 2:30 p.m. the platform guests were paraded onto the platform by piper Earl Cooper.

The Chairman for the afternoon was James Cooper, a member of the Dysart Council. In his opening remarks he stated that, as a member of Council, he was glad to have had a part in the opening of this bridge. He went on to say that Haliburton Lake was the first development in the area. In closing he praised the Reeve, Roy Brohm, who in Mr. Cooper's words was a man of action.

Reeve Roy Brohm issued a warm welcome to the estimated crowd of 200, and stated that on occasions such as this it gives us all a better chance to get acquainted and he hoped that in the future that we will co-operate to make this a better county in which to live. In conclusion the Reeve said that the Fort Irwin Bridge would serve you and your children for many decades ahead.

Deputy Reeve Walter Hobden in his remarks stated that this was his farewell in politics as he will be leaving to teach school at Eganville in the fall. He said that he was sorry that he was leaving the area and hoped that the person who would be taking his place would have your interest at heart. In closing he paid high tribute to Bud Bonner, Past President of the Haliburton Lake Cottagers' Association.

R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P., in speaking to the gathering stated that he hoped that this new bridge would serve the area for many years. He went on to mention some of the local men who had worked on the first bridge at Fort Irwin. He ended his address by speaking on the subject of "The Bridge of Unselfishness".

Other platform speakers were C. W. Hodgson, Hugh Newton and Les Boucher.

Councillor Lloyd Coneybeare presented the Minister of Highways with a painting scene of Haliburton County, along with the Highlands of Haliburton Tartan.

Councillor Harold Bannon took part in the ribbon cutting ceremonies.

Bill Scott, M.P., and the Hon. Leslie M. Frost were unable to be present for the bridge opening.

The total cost of the new bridge is $31,045.05.

Teachers Go To Ghana

Kathryn Sherk and John Stouffer of Minden were married at the Danfield Memorial Church, Vaughn Road, Toronto on July 8 with the Rev. H. R. Triddle officiating. Following the ceremony a reception was held for the many guests at Little Switzerland on Markham Road.

During the month of August they will attend a short orientation course at Western University in London, after which they will be leaving for a two year term of service in Ho, Ghana, West Africa, teaching at a new boarding high school.

They form part of a group of 90 from the Toronto area under the plan of Canadian University Services Overseas (CUSO) which for several years has been giving academic and technical aid to underdeveloped countries.

Two Committees

William Scott, M.P. for Victoria - Haliburton, has been named to two standing committees of the House of Commons.

He is a member of the Housing, Urban Development and Public Works Committee and the Industry, Research and Energy Development Committee.

students. Parents of students who will be attending a new school this September for Grade 5 and 6 will be notified by the Board Secretary. The committee also discussed the possible plans for transportation of these Grade 5 and 6 students.

The regular monthly meeting was held on July 20th at Lakeview School with all Trustees present. Tenders were read and accepted for necessary repairs to the exterior of the Victoria Street School as well as the exterior and interior of the West Guilford School. The Board also passed a motion hiring Mrs. Evelyn Stewart for the teaching staff of the Victoria Street School to replace Mrs. Linda Salvatori who is retiring. A letter from Mr. Ralph Hussey stating his inability to return to teaching for some time due to ill health was read, and discussion followed regarding the investigations which will be undertaken to find a new music teacher for the schools. The Board then had some heated debate regarding the transportation system throughout the school area. Some decisions were arrived at but further investigations are to be made early next month on the many aspects of this complex problem. Next regular monthly meeting will be held on August 17th at the West Guilford School.
